

SERVICE BRIEF FOR

VIRTUAL CISO

Is your company ready to step into the future with powerful cyber-security initiatives? Lodestone's virtual Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) service equips you with a direct line to a security expert that can remotely answer all of your security questions.

Our virtual CISO will show you the optimal steps towards creating a security foundation that protects the keys to your kingdom and helps you retain the trust of your customers.

Lodestone's virtual CISO is a seasoned security expert that is available on demand to provide all of the guidance and leadership of a full-time CISO without the overhead of turnover and high salary demands. Receive direction on tough security decisions and oversight on the development and maintenance of key policies.

BENEFITS

- Gain all of the advantages of expert security guidance on demand without concerns like turnover and the high salary demands of a full-time CISO.
- Supplement your company's existing cyber knowledge base and empower your personnel to prioritize security initiatives.

METHODOLOGY

Lodestone Virtual CISO service is comprised of these primary phases:

- Preparation and Document Review – We work with you to identify any particular security goals your organization has and determine the current maturity level. Lodestone experts review your existing security documentation.
- Consultation – A Lodestone professional is assigned to provide recommendations and guidance based on your company's security priorities and goals for the future. We help provide answers to burning cyber questions and empower your personnel to place security at the forefront.

DURATION AND DELIVERABLES

The duration of the Virtual CISO service varies based on the number of consulting hours purchased as part of the original engagement.

This service does not include any deliverables, but instead offers guidance via email, phone, or in-person discussion.

Connect with us:
www.lodestone.com
320 East Main Street, Lewisville, TX 75057, USA
Tel: +1-203-307-4984
info@lodestone.com

©2023 Lodestone
Lodestone is a global cybersecurity firm committed to helping clients prevent and investigate security incidents. It is comprised of top talent from private industry, government, intelligence, and law enforcement specializing in incident response, digital forensics, offensive security, risk management, and threat detection.

